

SECOND MAY GO TO PHILADELPHIA.

Mustered Out Deferred by Order of Secretary Alger.

CONFERENCE IN WASHINGTON.

Secretary Alger Consents, but the U. S. Government Will Not Defray Expenses—Work in the Third Progressing Rapidly.

Governor Tyler received a letter from Secretary Alger yesterday evening in which it was stated that the mustering out of the Second Regiment, in view of the request that the regiment be permitted to attend the Philadelphia Peace Jubilee, would be deferred temporarily in order to allow them to go to Philadelphia as representatives of Virginia.

The latter also stated that the United States government would not be responsible for expenses entailed in the matter, which naturally gave to the trip a hint of uncertainty, as there are a host of funds at hand for the purpose of defraying such expenses.

TRUE REFORMERS CELEBRATE.

The True Reformers celebrated on yesterday the fiftieth anniversary of the birth of the late Rev. W. W. Brown, the founder of the True Reformers Order and the banking institution by that name in this city, the 20th of October having been set aside as a holiday for the same.

At 9 o'clock the old forces, about fifty in number, mostly with a large number of the members of Richmond assembled at the hall and an appropriate program was carried out.

A. W. Holmes, the chief of Richmond, presided as master of ceremonies. A scripture lesson was read by Rev. C. A. Holmes, the former pastor of Rev. Brown, while the usher, R. T. Hill offered an appropriate prayer. W. P. Burrell, the grand worthy secretary and oldest associate of Rev. Brown delivered an address on the Footprints of W. W. Brown. His remarks were both moral and educational and were well received. Other addresses edifying of Rev. Brown were made.

Rev. C. A. Holmes declaring that in his judgment W. W. Brown was the greatest man that had ever lived in America.

Music of a select character was furnished by the echo choir. The exercises were very enthusiastic and it is very evident that the memory of William W. Brown will ever remain green with the True Reformers.

EXAMINATIONS NEARLY OVER.

The physical examinations have been practically concluded. With the exception of about City men, embracing the officers of the command and a few young men who have been examined and favorably passed upon, but who have contended that they have become incapacitated, the work along this line has been completed.

PAYMASTER IN SIGHT.

Under this condition of things it is altogether probable that the paymaster will be ready to make his round about next Wednesday.

A large amount of routine work is still to be done, but in the capable hands of Major Price and Major Shanks, this will be lost in trifles the same day.

It is evident that the silly boys who are fretting to get home will hardly have another week to remain here.

THE SECOND.

Major Shanks has about completed the work that he left Richmond to accomplish, and he will return either to-night or tomorrow. He has arranged for the mustering out of the various companies of the Second Regiment at the place from which they came, and work along that line will begin just as soon as the Third has been mustered out.

The regular meeting of Central Women's Christian Temperance Union was well attended, and good reports were read from all the superintendents.

A very active "Loyal Temperance Legion" has been organized under the auspices of Central Woman's Christian Temperance Union, and Lora Burgess, Mrs. Henry Lee Y., Meetings are held at Smithfield College building every Friday at 4 P. M. A cordial invitation to the children is extended.

The Central W. C. T. U. holds its weekly meetings at Friends' Meeting-House on Tuesdays at 4 P. M.

MILITARY MATTERS.

Governor Tyler Will Not Be Able to go to Jacksonville.

A telegram was received by Governor Tyler from Colonel Taylor, of the Fourth Regiment yesterday, as follows:

"Hope you will come immediately. This regiment will probably move to Savannah Wednesday night."

The Governor goes to Philadelphia next week and it will be impossible for him to visit the Fourth before he leaves Jacksonville. He will pay his respects to the soldiers after their arrival at Savannah.

Dr. Arlington Fonda, formerly a well-known pitcher on the Baltimore team, now a surgeon in the regular army, has come to Richmond to assist in the examination of the soldiers.

The examinations of some of the officers of the Sixth Virginia Regiment, colored, have been accepted and promotions will be made in regular order, it is doubtful that the men to be promoted will pass examination by the board Col. Coxon has called for. In that event several of the white officers of the Second and Third Regiments may be appointed to commands in the Sixth regiment.

The work of examining the men of the Third regiment as to their physical condition will be completed to-day. The last will be for a board of two officers to examine into the cases of the men who claim to have suffered some physical disability by reason of having enlisted in the army. Major Price will be ready to-day to wire the War Department to send a paymaster down here to settle with the men.

FOURTH REGIMENT.

Ordered to be in Readiness to Move to Savannah.

JACKSONVILLE, FLA., Oct. 20.—Special—Orders have been issued to the Fourth Virginia Regiment and the Forty-Ninth Infantry of the Second Brigade of the Second Division of the Seventh Army Corps to hold themselves in readiness to leave here on next Monday for Savannah.

It is understood that lots have been drawn for the location of the camps of the two divisions, the Second Corps and that the more spacious sites have been secured by the Second Division.

It is said that the same is located immediately on the banks of the electric street car line, and about two miles from the heart of the city. The present camp of the Virginia troops is about four miles from Jacksonville, and the street car line covers only about one-half of the distance.

While the number of the men on duty in the Fourth Regiment is still comparatively small, a great many are at home on furlough, the general health is much improved.

DAY OF SIGHT-SEEING.

The Bridge Builders Visit the Various Points of Interest.

The various members of the Bridge Builders' Association which has been in session at Murphy's Hotel followed out the programme arranged for them by Mr. Joseph M. Staten, of this city, yesterday.

The members, accompanied by their ladies, visited a number of tobacco factories where they were not only interested in the methods pursued by the manufacturers but where they were entertained by singing by the darkies employed at the factories. A trip was taken around the Belt Line, and in the afternoon the entire party went down to Seven Pines.

Much pleasure was expressed by the visitors at the courtesies extended them

INDIAN MAIDEN WEDS IN FULTON.

She is the Daughter of "Big Diver," the Pamunkey.

A PICTURESQUE SPECTACLE.

Rev. P. E. Throckmorton, Pastor of the Pamunkey Baptist Church, performed the Ceremony—Mr. Woodfin Weds Miss Angus.

At the residence of the officiating minister, Rev. P. E. Throckmorton, No. 604 Graham street, Fulton, yesterday at noon, Miss Delilah Almond, daughter of Mr. D. H. Almond, better known as "Big Diver," a well known member of the Pamunkey Tribe living on the Indian reservation in King William county, and Mr. Lee Andrews Hawks, of Petersburg, formerly a resident of the reservation, and a member of the same Indian tribe, were joined in the bonds of matrimony.

The wedding took place in the parlor of Mr. Throckmorton, who is pastor of the First Baptist church on the Indian reservation in King William.

The groom is engaged in mechanical work in Petersburg. His bride is a full-blooded Indian, and traces her ancestry back for many a generation, when the big Indian warriors made things so lively for the pale face in Colonial Virginia.

Her father is one of the Indians in the famous Baptist church, and is a man of influence among the Indians in the community.

As "Big Diver" he has a reputation throughout that section of country and there are a few men who have adopted so great a name as a pseudonym, the most notable being the wild man.

He is proud of his lineage, and looks back upon his ancestors' records with a high degree of patriotism and admiration.

The bridegroom there are who are to the Indian, and she is to him time to time to hunt and fish, who are not acquainted with "Big Diver," the Pamunkey.

She is to be given the honor for the nuptial knot to be observed three days at a time, the bridal couple were besides Rev. P. Cabell Hendrix, pastor of the Fulton Baptist church, and several members of the congregation.

The church was beautifully decorated with white and yellow chrysanthemums.

After the ceremony a reception was given to the personal friends and relatives from 2 to 7:30 o'clock, after which Mr. and Mrs. Wood took the 7:35 train for the North on an extended bridal tour.

Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. General Averill, Miss Julia Magruder, the authoress, and Mr. Henry Dittmer, well known in literary circles. The bridal presents were very numerous and handsome.

The bride wore a white dress of silk with a veil. Her dark Indian features contrasted with the costume.

In front of the couple and immediately behind the bride's father, "Big Diver," stood his wife and two sons, the bridegroom and his two brothers.

After the marriage, "Big Diver" embraced and kissed his daughter and his son-in-law.

The wishes were expressed all around after partaking of cream and cake.

The bridal party left for their homes.

The newly wedded ones are going to Petersburg, where they will reside in future.

The star.

The impressive ceremony was performed by Rev. B. M. Randolph, of Emmanuel church, assisted by Rev. E. T. Poston, of Mount Vernon Baptist church.

The bride looked very charming in a tailor-made travelling suit of brown cloth, and carried bride's roses.

The groom is the son of Mr. William Ellis Jones, one of Richmond's best known business men, with whom he has for several years been associated in business in this city.

After receiving the congratulations of their friends, the young couple left on the Northern train for Washington, Philadelphia and New York.
